

Accredited Skills Partnerships

Proskills Global is building on its Training Partner Network with a new simplified & partnership-led approach.

Accredited Partners

After completing our robust Proskills Global partner due diligence process, accredited training partners will be able to offer their training programmes and qualifications to employers in sector using their own brand, coupled with the Proskills Global Partner Logo.

Who can apply for accreditation?

The network is open to applications from: colleges, private training partners, universities, independent consultants and trainers, specialist and niche training partners, employers and suppliers who want to supply either generic or industry specific training and education to the process and manufacturing sector.

By joining the new network...

Training Partners can access a range of products and services that will help to grow their businesses including:

Co-Branded Certification

- › Proskills Global offers an integrated co-branded certification service to all partners. This service applies to all non-accredited courses.
- › We can issue paper or electronic certificates. We are also able to offer a card printing system. Prices are available on request.
- › Certification is subject to course endorsement and must meet Proskills Global

Promotional Activities

- › Access to nationally branded materials, certificates and quality assurance processes.
- › Free listings on the Proskills Global website.
- › Use of the Proskills Global Partner Logo to support your own marketing efforts.
